

Tucson summer bucket list: 100 things to do

May 29, 2018 Updated May 29, 2018

You think Tucson shrivels up in the summer? We beg to differ. We've found something to do every day over the next 100 days — what we year-rounders think of as the summer.

Get out the calendar and plan for three-plus months of indulgent, cool, and often after-dark, fun.

Kathy Allen/Arizona Daily Star

The Estate of Harry Callahan, Courtesy Etherton Gallery

Wednesday, June 6

Etherton Gallery is hanging works by some of the greatest photographers of the last century, including Harry Callahan, W. Eugene Smith and Robert Frank. Also on view at the gallery through Aug. 31 are Kate Breakey's large, hand-colored photographs. The gallery is at 135 S. Sixth Ave. While on view now, the reception is 7-10 p.m. June 9. The Gallery is open 11 a.m.-5 p.m. Tuesdays through Saturdays. Free. 624-7370, ethertongallery.com.

http://tucson.com/entertainment/tucson-summer-bucket-list-things-to-do/collection_953ffa16-5e9f-11e8-b8e1-b313f4e16801.html#3